

NO JERSEY REFUGE FOR POOL ROOMS

Mayor Fagan and Jerome to Wipe Them Out Across the River.

Plans of the pool-room operators to shift their base of action to Jersey was communicated to the District Attorney last week and led to a long conference at the Criminal Courts Building to-day between District Attorney Jerome and Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City.

Plans were formulated not only to stop an invasion of Jersey City by New York pool-room men, but to put an end to the pool-room business across the North River.

A prominent Hudson County politician, who is close to the Sullivan, is credited with the ownership of several pool-rooms in the downtown section of Manhattan. One of the rooms is said to be running today, receiving bets by telephone and paying off and collecting by messenger.

District Attorney Jerome is anxious about the race has been communicated to pool-rooms in New York.

Inasmuch as Mayor Fagan is up to his shoulders in a reform movement now it is likely that he is willing to go in deeper. The politician referred to is an enemy of Mayor Fagan.

HUNDREDS IN SEARCH, MAN STILL MISSING.

Peter McGowan Dropped Out of Sight Three Weeks Ago and Relatives Believe He Was Slain

(Special to The Evening World.)
RABBITAN, N. J., Dec. 11.—Although the police of half-a-dozen cities and the entire membership of the Order of Railroad Conductors throughout the United States have been searching for Peter McGowan, the Central railroad conductor of this place, who mysteriously disappeared from the Elizabethport freight yards where he went to take out his run, over three weeks ago, nothing has yet been learned of the missing man.

The sudden disappearance of McGowan and his continued absence has begun to prey upon the mind of his wife and fears are entertained that she will lose her reason. For over a week the women has not been able to get on sleep and has refused to take medicine of any kind to relieve her wretched condition.

Michael McGowan, a brother of the missing man, thinks he was robbed and murdered.

PLAYED DETECTIVE, CAN'T COLLECT PAY.

Fox's Suit Reveals Domestic Troubles of Architect Howard Smith and His Wife.

When is a detective not a detective?

is the question involved in a case in the Appellate Term to-day, and it incidentally reveals domestic troubles of Howard Smith, the architect, and his beautiful young wife, who is now living alone in apartments at the Riviera, No. 244 Seventh avenue.

Reuben Fox is suing Mrs. Smith for $50 for services in shadowing her husband. He says that he is a friend and undertook the work on promise of $50 and expenses. He got $30 and sued before Justice Hoyer for the rest.

David May, counsel for Mrs. Smith, got Fox to admit that he was not licensed as a private detective and the court dismissed the case holding he had no right to compensation for his friendly detective work. From this decision Fox now appeals.

Mrs. Reuben Smith was much perturbed at this inadvertent exposure of her domestic infidelity. She refused to discuss the matter to-day, as did her attorney, Mr. May, who would not admit that a suit for divorce was contemplated.

MOROCCAN BATTLE NEAR.

MELILLA, Morocco, Dec. 11.—The troops of the Sultan are advancing upon the forces of the Pretender and a battle is momentarily expected.

SHAH IS DECLARED SLIGHTLY BETTER.

TEHERAN, Dec. 11.—8.45 P. M.—The Shah is again slightly better to-day, his improvement having now been continuous since Dec. 9. The condition of the patient, however, is still very critical. His attending physicians say that he is showing remarkable vitality.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 11.—An official despatch from Teheran, Persia, dated Dec. 10, says that the German specialist who is attending the Shah has pronounced the latter's condition to be hopeless, adding that he cannot survive many weeks.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—No news has been received here to-day tending to confirm the report, circulated in the United States, that the Shah of Persia is dead.
